

OVERVIEW

"We installed it—good luck, and God's speed." That's a common refrain from many technology providers; and it's how software becomes shelf-ware. Beyond our standard implementations, Qvidian offers additional learning platforms to ensure that your users adopt our tools in the ways that you need them to.

SERVICES

Qvidian University

An online, open enrollment course that teaches the foundational principles of Qvidian Proposal Automation

Deployment Refresher

A web-based course to refresh users, content managers and administrators on Qvidian functionality

Architect Training

Web-based or onsite training to teach system architects best practices for designing or modifying document structure

Train-the-Trainer

Courseware to instruct your trainers how to teach Qvidian effectively to your end-users

Admin & End-User Training

Online or onsite training for the people who use Qvidian within your organization

Things to Know about Education Services

What good is a tool if the operator doesn't know how to use it properly? Our Education team delivers specific instruction to targeted user groups to ensure that they use Qvidian with proficiency.

- Flexibility: Depending on geographic and budgetary constraints, we offer training sessions in online and onsite formats.
- Adult-education experience: Our instructors know how to engage adults in their work environment to make the learning experience relevant and productive.
- Customization: Apart from Qvidian University, we teach all courses using your production environment. We customize each session to your specific sales environment.
- Bonding: The 'it factor' that Qvidian brings to our learning sessions is our desire to understand your situation and deliver training that is relevant and on-point with your participants' needs.